

“I read The Reconnection in December of 2012, and knew that someday I would have to take the workshop. Synchronistically, a workshop announcement appeared in my inbox, announcing The Reconnection® on a date I had available and in close proximity to me. I took that as a sign and registered for the course. Not only was the workshop amazing, but my own Reconnection® brought me so much confidence in who I am and why I’m here. I may not always know exactly where I’m going, but I know I’m on my way!”

Phoenix is offering sessions in Reconnective® Healing and The Reconnection® both at home in Sedona, AZ, and also on the road wherever she goes.

“I absolutely love connecting with this full spectrum of light and information. I love that it is easily available to everyone. And I especially love how it accelerates personal and global evolution on so many levels. I’m deeply honored to offer this to the world.”

The Reconnective

The Reconnective Healing® is a transmission of energy, light and information that helps balance and heal. The Reconnective Healing® opens the channels of receiving, allowing the client to accept exactly what is appropriate for that session, and to be reconnected to divine source at a profound level. This is the recipe for spontaneous miracles and deep healing at the physical, emotional, mental and spiritual levels.

Not just for two-leggeds, but for all life everywhere!

The Reconnective Healing® takes you beyond techniques into a state of BE-ing.

This higher state of consciousness is where miracles, expansion and healing occur.

What The Reconnective Healing® session looks like:

Clients are fully clothed, typically lying on a massage table. (If unable to lie down, the practitioner will adapt the session to the needs of the client.)

First, the practitioner accesses this expansive spectrum of healing frequencies and works with them through his or her hands. Then, from a distance of one to several feet or further, the practitioner continues to feel these frequencies that surround the recipient.

The practitioners often walk around their clients, varying their distance and connecting with the sensations in their hands, as they observe the visibly clear and distinct physical effects it has on the recipient, until the session is complete.

Everyone's experience is unique.

Clients may have visions, or see colors.

Sometimes they may have no recognizable experience at all.

Or their experience may emerge hours or days after the session.

“Yet whether or not they’ve come back with conscious recall of the experiential aspect of their sessions, the actual reported healings experienced are remarkable,” says Dr. Eric Pearl, author and founder of The Reconnection.

The Reconnective Healing® may be offered in person or via distance.

$100/session. Ask about local discounts.

The Reconnection

The Reconnection® is a divine template connection to your soul's purpose.

Accomplished in two sessions, no more than 72 hours apart, The Reconnection Healing® accelerates your soul path and amplifies your understanding and awareness of who you are. The Reconnection® allows the body to recalibrate its energetic system and connect with the grid lines and magnetic fields of the earth, which offers the potential for greater consciousness and an expanded sense of self. The Reconnection® must be offered in person, and is $333 to honor the frequency exchange of divine healing and purpose.

What The Reconnection® session looks like:

Clients are fully clothed, typically lying down on a massage table. (If unable to lie down, the practitioner will adapt the session to the needs of the client.)

The practitioner will be touching and activating a series of points and lines in the energy field, connecting with the lines and fields of the earth, to help awaken the soul purpose and accelerate the soul path.

The first session will last approximately 35-45 minutes. The second session scheduled more than 24 hours but less than 72 hours after the first session, will last approximately one hour.

The Reconnection can only be offered in person.
